

Artistic Research Forum 2021

Presentations and discussions

Open call

The Artistic Research Forum is a new initiative launched by the International Center for Knowledge in the Arts. It takes the form of a monthly event featuring presentations of and feedback on artistic research and practice-based research projects from the Center's member institutions. You can present projects that are still in development as well as research that has already been completed. How you want to present your project is up to you, and artistic contributions are very welcome. However, we ask you to make it clear to the recipients which elements you want feedback on. You will be asked to send relevant material to the selected respondent(s) in advance.

A maximum of thirty minutes is allowed for each presentation.

Following the presentation, one or two respondents will offer feedback and ask questions. Each respondent has a maximum of 10 minutes set aside for them. After this, we end with a joint discussion.

How to participate:

Send us the following information: the title of your project, a summary, a few words on how far your project has progressed, as well as information on how you want to present your project and possibly when.

You can carry out your presentation in the spring or autumn of 2021. Exact dates for the spring are provided below, but you are also welcome to register your interest in presenting at some point this autumn.

Send us your information no later than 22 February 2021
e-mail: info.videnscenter@kunstakademiet.dk

Artistic Research Forums will be held regularly throughout the year, either on the last Thursday or the last Wednesday of the month. As yet, the forums will be held online until other options become possible again.
